Soy Protein Isolates Portfolio

Custom Fit Isolates For Superb Functionality

Soy protein isolates from ADM are best-in-class leaders in taste and function and can deliver protein-packed nutrition across a variety of applications. Meet taste expectations with an extremely clean tasting and high-quality isolate portfolio, custom fit for achieving targeted taste and texture as well as tailored nutrition.

OUTSTANDING TASTE AND TEXTURE

Produced with worldclass technical and manufacturing expertise, our high-quality US-grown protein creates one of the cleanest tasting soy isolates in the industry, eliminating the need to solve for off-flavor challenges. They can provide either high-impact texture or low-impact texture to suit the formulation desired.

APPLICATIONS EXPERTISE

Our technical know-how and understanding of the intricacies of soy proteins helps you deliver the targeted taste and texture and tailored nutrition that consumers are looking for in plant-based products.

FIRST IN THE INDUSTRY INNOVATION

We're growing our presence in Europe through the expansion of our Wageningen Protein Solutions Center, investing in our technical service capabilities and equipment to provide technical guidance to our customers every step of the way. We can build, scale and problem-solve the next generation of protein innovation together.
